

©2009 E.M. for POH

“Summer of Color” Lifeguard Towers of Los Angeles We Need You!!!

When: Sunday morning, April 25th, 8a – 12p

What: Help Paint the Rails of the lifeguard towers in preparation for “Summer of Color.”

- 158 towers in a row on 31 miles of beach from Zuma to Palos Verdes, and every beach in between.
- 10-person teams per tower for painting all 158 tower rails in a single morning.
- 1,600 volunteers joining together to Paint the Rails, Sunday morning, April 25, 2010
- Are you a paint professional/contractor? We need an additional 158 volunteer paint professionals, one professional per tower.
- Sign up today to volunteer at poh@portraitsofhope.org for the April 25th Paint the Rails - A Monumental Civic Experience.

More: Paints will be generously provided by Benjamin Moore and Vista Paints.

- Requirement: Please bring your own beach towel or sheet to use as a tarp. One per volunteer.
- Where and When to meet? 8:00am at designated towers on Sunday morning, April 25.

“Summer of Color” is the largest public art project in the U.S., and one of the largest civic efforts anywhere. The project serves and involves 6,000+ youth, and more than 100 hospitals, schools, and youth programs. The exhibition begins in May.

Sign up today at poh@portraitsofhope.org

www.PortraitsofHope.org

Portraits of Hope